WORK FOR 30 EXPECTED AT CLEANING FIRM

A dry cleaning establishment with an expected employment of at least 30 will be situated on Davis Dr. on the east side of the canal bank, it was disclosed Monday night at the Newmarket town council meeting.

A resolution was passed by the council allotting a parcel of land 250 ft. deep on the north side of Davis Dr. and on the east side of the canal to Albert Lindenbaum and his father, Isaac Lindenbaum, for $50, on condition that a modern plant is erected with employment for at least 15. Mr. Lindenbaum said that he expected to employ 30.

Recently home from overseas, Albert Lindenbaum purchased Capital Cleaners and his plans to build arise from the need to expand. "Our plans for the new plant call for a floor space of 3,500 square feet," said Mr. Lindenbaum. "We intend to build as soon as possible. We believe we can double our present capacity."

"We intend to build a cement block building with modern front so that it will constitute an advertisement for the town as well as for ourselves. If possible, we intend to landscape in front of the building. In time, we hope to further enlarge to take in a wet wash as well."

Announcement of the sale of the property and Mr. Lindenbaum's project was made by Joseph Vale, chairman of the industrial committee. He introduced Mr. Lindenbaum to the council and Mr. Lindenbaum then outlined his plans.

EXPECT LARGE ENTRY IN YORK SEED FAIR

A feature of the 10th annual York county seed fair being held in the Masonic hall at Richmond Hill on Friday, March 15, will be the address on "The feed situation" by W. R. White of Ottawa, feeds administrator for Ontario. Mr. White is a brother of R. E. White, former agricultural representative for York county. The demand for foodstuffs for Europe, together with present shortages, has created a major problem, according to feed manufacturers and distributors.

The seed fair committee of the Crop Improvement Association anticipates a larger entry this year than grade certificates are not required for the grain classes except in the ten-bushel registered classes. Many farmers will be obliged to purchase seed this spring and the fair exhibits represent a quantity for sale at the fair.

While the seed is being judged in the morning there will be a junior farmer seed judging competition for boys up to 26 years of age. The competitors in this will be guests of the association for lunch. Four prizes have been donated for the top contestants, with others receiving registered seed. At 1 p.m. the show will be open to the public, with the exhibits arranged in order of merit. At 2:30 p.m., Mr. White will give his address which will be followed by the auction sale of ten-bushel lots of registered oats and barley.

During the day, commercial and educational exhibits will be on display including the association's exhibit on smut and rusts. This was used at the recent convention in Toronto and has been requested for a number of seed fairs in eastern Ontario.

Entries for the fair should be mailed to the secretary, W. M. Cockburn, Newmarket, by March 12.

Farmers Are Urged To Apply At Once For Summer Help

The federal government has been circulating farmers, asking them to make early application to the federal employment offices if they are going to need farm help during the summer. The circular includes a form for the farmer to fill out, describing the work that will be done, the number of men wanted, and wage paid.

The Newmarket employment office reports that "several" applications have been received for farm help but that so far, there have been no applications seeking work on farms. Federal agencies are urging heavy production to meet the needs of overseas markets, and it has been stated by Ottawa officials that federal orders may be invoked to supply labor quotas for farm employment.

W. M. Cockburn, York county agriculture representative, Newmarket, states that his office will not be used as an employment centre this year as in the past. "With the provision of the federal agency, the use of our office would be duplication," he said. Farm labor is tied in with prices for farm products. Unless a farmer knows how much he is going to get from a crop, he has no way of judging how much of that crop to put in. "Until the farmer is guaranteed a price for his products, he will be unable to state with any certainty what wage he can pay or determine how many men he will need because he will not know how much to produce," said Mr. Cockburn. "Many farmers remember the depression days when some farm help, no matter how low their wages, made more than the farmer who hired them."

Producers under the various marketing schemes such as the hog scheme which is effective at the beginning of next month, have some measure of certainty on the prices they will receive from their products and can plan accordingly. Other producers were able to count on subsidies to protect them. However, reports from Ottawa state that subsidies in produce for canning will be withdrawn. Withdrawal of subsidies reduces the farmers' hiring power.

TEN-YEAR MEN GIVEN SHARES IN DAVIS CO.

A dinner and entertainment was given to all Davis Leather Co. Ltd. employees who had been with the firm ten years or more at Pickering College Friday night by Aubrey, Andrew and E. J. Davis, Jr. At the conclusion of the dinner, Aubrey Davis spoke briefly of the past close relationship between the Davis brothers and their employees.

As a parting gift, Mr. Davis announced that his brothers and himself had decided to give each employee who had worked ten years or more, one share of Davis Leather Co. Ltd. stock for each year they had been employed by the Davis Leather Co.

The presentation of the shares was made by the Davis brothers. One hundred and fifty employees who had worked from ten years to a total of 41 years each, received the stock.

The employees then presented each of the Davis brothers with an onyx pen and pencil desk set, suitably inscribed for the occasion. Jack Hellam and James Germain read the address of presentation and the presentation was made by Thomas Fairley, Ernest Fairley and Jack Groves, who had come to Newmarket from King when the tannery was established here.

Following the presentations, the employees and their hosts adjourned to the auditorium where an entertainment was put on.

No longer will farmers be obliged to plow under mildew-infected crops of barley when seed of the new hybrid created at the central experimental farm, Ottawa, becomes available. Here, one of the cereal division plant breeders examines the new hybrid, highly resistant to mildew. In the foreground are pots of the mildew susceptible variety, OAC 21, on which mildew spores are propagated for testing on 700 barley varieties from all parts of the world. From there, cereal division scientists selected the only two which were resistant and used them as parents of the hybrid in their latest successful effort to benefit growers.

This is the same division whose development of Marquis wheat and other cereals has meant millions of dollars to farmers.

WELCOME HOME FOR VETERANS IS POSTPONED

The "welcome home" dinner and entertainment planned by the Newmarket town council for veterans of Newmarket and their wives has been called off because of the inability of the camp to meet the catering requirements. Sixteen cooks from the camp will be leaving the service before the date of the banquet.

It was the intention of the council to provide a dinner for the men and women of the service from Newmarket in the officers' mess, to be followed by an entertainment in the camp drill hall, and dancing.

Arrangements for March 13 were precipitated by the announcement of the closing of the camp at the end of this month. This week, however, members of council learned that the camp would be unable to meet the needs for the dinner and the program was postponed rather than attempt to replace the original plans with a hasty substitute.

IMPROVED PRODUCTION SAID REPLY TO RIVALS

By MRS. W. H. WILMOT, Press Secretary
The Newmarket East Farm Forum met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McNern. The subject of the broadcast originating in Regina was "What about export markets?"

Canada's resources and climate are such that a large volume of export trade is necessary to maintain a high standard of living. Members in discussion agreed that in order to increase our exports we must: 1. Increase our imports; 2. Specialize in production of goods we can produce most economically and buy otherwise; 3. We will have to extend credit to those foreign nations whose credit is low and as yet have not goods in return for our food products.

In order to prevent "foreign competition" from ruining the Canadian farmer, we must have: 1. More efficient methods of production, processing and control; 2. International trade agreements designed to maintain satisfactory world prices and designed to increase consumption of food. The F.A.O. of the United Nations Organization aims to investigate such ways and means and be able to recommend such action as will raise the dietary levels and standard of living all over the world.

Government subsidies like the protective tariff once enjoyed are not easily let go. Best example is baby's bottle when nature doesn't provide. What a howl to take it away, especially if the infant has been sick and the formula still agrees with it. But what is more disgusting than the overgrown, overfed one still holding the bottle. We have many examples of this in industry for the past 75 years, and will no doubt continue to witness these examples as long as governments cater to privileged interests.

New Zealand produces butter more cheaply than in Canada, thus with our shortage, should we lower the duty and allow it in or should cream producers receive higher subsidy and encourage production here? This question needed more thought and study.

The next meeting is March 11, at Ivan Eves' home. The subject: "Who will export our farm products?" Farm people who do not attend are missing a great opportunity to study their own problems and become conversant on world affairs. "Unobstructed world trade is very necessary to world peace," is our viewpoint. How may we each do our part?

Instruct Committee To Negotiate For All Camp Property

Newmarket town council, with Reeve Arthur D. Evans as acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales, gave a committee of committee chairman instructions to negotiate for the purchase of Newmarket military camp in its entirety at a council meeting Monday night.

The instructions came following a long discussion as to what policy the council committee should follow in negotiating for the camp property. Newmarket military camp must report "nil personnel" by March 30. After this date, the only personnel remaining at the camp will be a rear party which will operate out of Brampton.

Joseph Vale, chairman of the industrial committee, asked the council what were the instructions the council committee were to follow in approaching Ottawa authorities about the disposal of the camp property.

"I have been advised on several occasions that Newmarket should purchase the camp property as it stands," he said. "There are three parcels of property. There are the fairgrounds including the drill hall, the Stickwood property, and that section of Connaught Gardens used by the officers. We need a policy to follow. Shall we just negotiate for the fairgrounds and the drill hall? The hall would make an excellent recreation centre."

"We should see about the hospital, it would make an excellent convalescent home," said Mrs. Caroline Edwards.

"If we don't take over the whole camp, we will run into trouble with bits of the camp being sold piece-meal about us," said Acting-Mayor Evans. "If we had the whole camp we could dispose of it under our own conditions, perhaps as housing."

"Let us face the fact that in the next couple of years, we will have to have at least 50 or 75 new houses in Newmarket," said Frank Bowser. "Many residents are patiently waiting to build but there are no lots." "Already there have been some individual bids for the camp property," said Acting-Mayor Evans. "Go after the camp lock, stock and barrel," said Mr. Bowser. "Get separate prices for each parcel of property and secure a price for the entire camp."

The agreement with the government states that the property leased from Newmarket must be returned to the original contour.

BARBER SHOP FOUR BRINGS HOME TROPHY

A barbershop quartet from the Newmarket Lions club was triumphant in a contest sponsored by the Richmond Hill Lions club in Richmond Hill on Friday. Members of the quartet were Alex. Eves, tenor, Thomas Scott, baritone, James Walker, second tenor, and W. M. Cockburn, bass. A condition of the contest was that all participants be dressed in costume. Newmarket was victorious over three other entries.

Various rumors stated that property such as army blankets was being burned in the camp area. Another rumor stated that camp cots were being sold "out the window" for $2 a piece. "There is absolutely no truth in these rumors," Col. Young declared.

Camp property such as blankets, dishes, etc., is issued from ordnance depots to the camp and must be returned to the depot.

The only destruction being done at the camp is the burning of old records and cleaning out old files, said Col. Young. All other equipment is being tagged and returned to the depots from which it came.

Eugene McCaffrey and Howard Hugo, representing the Newmarket Horticulture Society, appeared before Newmarket town council to ask that the council grant to the society be continued this year as in the past. The society receives a grant of $200.

"Last year was a poor year for the society," said Mr. McCaffrey, who is president of the society. "This year we expect to do much better. Last year we put in flower beds on Eagle St. This year we intend to continue that work now that supplies are available and we plan to beautify the approaches to the supervised restroom operated by the Newmarket branch of the Women's Institute."

Mr. McCaffrey said that last year's membership was 125 but that this year, the society had a membership of 235.

THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1946

NO CHOICE BUT TO TAKE ALL OF CAMP

The policy of the Newmarket town council regarding the military camp here is to negotiate for the purchase of the whole camp, lock, stock and barrel. There could be no alternative policy at this time. The camp in its entirety is too valuable to Newmarket to risk its disposal in any other manner except through the medium of the town.

Newmarket owns the fair grounds on which the drill hall stands. It might claim possession of the drill hall as its due on the basis of town expenditures in the camp area for roads, sewers, and electric power connections. Whether or not the authorities will recognize such a claim is a question yet to be answered. There is no question, however, of the need of a hall such as the one at the camp for Newmarket. The use of the drill hall is mentioned mostly in terms of municipal recreation. It is the one good sized assembly building, excepting the arena, in Newmarket. The uses to which it could be put are manifold.

The camp hospital, as has been suggested by Mrs. Caroline Edwards, could well serve this northern part of the county as a convalescent home. It would do much to relieve the strain on the facilities at York County hospital. It would add greatly to the independence of the citizens of North York county.

The officers' mess would make an ideal club-room for the veterans. Many of the huts could be removed and erected elsewhere in Newmarket as additions to industrial plants. The sleeping huts could be converted into temporary housing units. As Frank Bowser has pointed out, 75 houses are required in Newmarket. The camp huts could serve as quarters until building conditions approach normal.

The camp also provides an industrial location. At a time when factory space is at a premium, the value of the camp as such reaches a new high. In the multitude of its uses, the Newmarket military camp, now that its war career is over, has become a gold mine of opportunity for Newmarket. There should be no question of whether or not to negotiate for it in its entirety.

Instead, the question must be, how best to use the property when and if acquired? One thing is certain, however the property is used, the citizens of Newmarket, through their council, must see to it that the property is used in a manner which will most benefit the town and surrounding district.

SUPPORT THE HOG MARKETING SCHEME

The hog marketing scheme, which was approved by a vote of more than two-thirds of the hog producers in Ontario, and which was sponsored under the Farm Products Control Act, becomes effective at the beginning of next month. The scheme enables producers to determine the quality and quantity of their products and to share in the setting of the market price.

In the period prior to the taking of the vote, much was made of the need to maintain production and quality. Increased production has become more necessary than ever as European food supplies have reached starvation levels. If for no other reason than Christian charity, it is obligatory for hog producers, along with all other producers of food, to extend their production to its highest level. Future wars have their beginning in empty bellies and in the warping of minds from starvation. If the marketing scheme can encourage production, it will have made an essential contribution to peace.

But if brotherhood of man is not sufficient an inducement to continue high production, self interest can be made equally pertinent. At the time of the vote on the hog marketing scheme, Kenneth Betzner, Ontario Federation of Agriculture president, cited figures showing a lowering level of production in hogs and hog products. His forecast was that it would be doubtful whether Canada could fill her bacon contract with the United Kingdom. He said he feared a repetition of the period following the last war when Canada lost her bacon market in the United Kingdom because of the failure of Canadian farmers to meet their obligations. He believed that the hog marketing scheme was the only way to prevent a repetition of the loss of war-created markets.

In this connection, read what J. L. Croome, British food mission, Ottawa, told the Ontario Hog Producers' Association in Toronto recently: "Canadian bacon filled from one-half to one-third the entire British ration and was the best on the market during the war years. This would bear favorably upon Canada's future bacon contracts with Great Britain."

"In the next few years Canada has an opportunity to become entrenched in the British bacon market by shipping in regular volume a high-grade product at a reasonable price. In all of 1946, he said, Denmark, Britain's chief pre-war supplier of bacon, would not ship much more than will Canada in the first three months. More Danish bacon will be on the market in 1947, and still more in 1948, but by then the Canadian product, now less heavily cured than in wartime, can have established a strong demand."

"Fluctuation of supply, as there has been in the past, was not favorable to the future sale of the Canadian product."

Canada is an exporting nation. To remain prosperous, Canada must retain its foreign markets. To do that, she must first meet the commitments she has undertaken. The hog marketing scheme will take a long step towards meeting obligations and underwriting future production. But the scheme can be effective only if it is given the whole-hearted support of every producer.

SCHOOL AREA SUGGESTED

We draw attention to the remarks of Inspector Gordon L. Duffin of the Ontario department of education as reported on the Aurora page of this issue. Mr. Duffin was addressing a meeting of school trustees and municipal councillors in the Whitechurch-King-Aurora areas on value of a high school area.

Briefly, a school area is the provision of one high school for an area with a population of 10,000, and an assessment of $10,000,000. On the average, such an area would have a secondary school population of 300. (The figures are Mr. Duffin's.) Through the use of the one school, spending is concentrated with resultant value in improved educational facilities. Better transportation is necessary but the savings from taxation on one school only would cover the increased cost of transportation with something to spare.

We were equally interested, however, in other aspects of Mr. Duffin's address. For example, his remarks on existing educational facilities as reported:

"Under present academic arrangements, only three out of every 100 passing their entrance proceed to secure a university degree. We spend too much on these three and not enough on the other 97. Shop and home economics courses should be available in all secondary schools and where rural pupils were concerned, agriculture should be on the curriculum. Commercial courses were also advocated. All these were impracticable from a cost standpoint unless there was a school attendance of 300."

The report on the meeting concludes with the comments of various representatives at the meeting. Mayor Ross Linton expresses himself as in favor of the plan for a school area. The general impression from reports on other speakers is that they are favorable. It is to be hoped that the plan for a school area will receive further consideration and decisions reached in the near future.

Here is an item that an obliging reader sent us. It is a clipping from the Philadelphia Teachers' Credit Union News, and we pass it on as worth framing on the wall where it is in full view. It is entitled the Low Cost of Health.

"We hear very much of the high cost of living, but we overlook the fact that many of the best things of life can be had for nothing.

"It costs nothing to stand up and walk and breathe properly.

"Fresh air in the home is free.

"No expense taking a few simple exercises each morning.

"It costs nothing to chew the food thoroughly.

"It costs nothing to select the food best suited to the body.

"It costs nothing to clean the teeth twice a day.

"It costs nothing to stop using patent medicines.

"It costs no more to read good books than trashy literature.

"It costs nothing to have a cheerful happy disposition, and stop having grouches.

"These things cost nothing, yet they will bring contentment, and reduce the doctor's bill to nothing a year for you."

School Age Child

It is necessary to understand the school-age child as constantly changing and growing and possessing individual differences. However, there are similarities in school-age children and the general principles remain the same. He usually resents too rigid control and tries to act like an adult in some things. Parents often expect him to act as a child, an adult yet treat him as a child. The ages 6-13 years are often the forgotten years, the in-between years, years of insecurity. The rapid physical development of the child gives rise to many problems. Parental concern about health bothers the child. We can expect wiggles and increased motor skills and should allow increasing scope for these. The emotional control is often improved during this period and there is more dependence on language for outlet instead of motor exhibitions.

At this stage there is an increased sensitivity of approval or disapproval of playmates rather than of adults. The child has a need to achieve status in a group. The child from 6-13 is sensitive to ridicule which should not be used by adults in all fairness to the child. He needs unobtrusive help to gain balance and learn to evaluate. The child's fears are becoming fewer and less intense and more intangible, such as fears of death and dark. He begins to display a definite dislike for emotional display; he doesn't like to be kissed, especially with an audience. Interests should be selected by the child with help toward keeping them as varied as possible.

Social development is important at this stage. It isn't fair to give adult standards but there is a necessity to meet the child's own needs for society and giving 'why's' to his queries is helpful. As his social contacts widen, the outside world vs. the home. There is a need for both home and community interests. Unfortunately the sexes are separated in schools and Sunday schools and attitudes of parents keep them separated.

There is a need for a balance between correction and companionship. A two-way confidence and trust should exist between child and parent. There is a necessity to make the child feel at home. Parents must be alert to the child's ideas of the world and attempt to minimize the conflicts between themselves and their children. Valuable use can be made of the system of a family council, in which the members of the family meet to regulate family activities. The child gets training in finances and in the management of families. The home is the first training ground to prepare for school. Even after school begins the home is still the most important influence. The teachers and parents blame each other and don't understand each other's status.

The aims of education are: 1. Safeguard and foster health, physical, mental and emotional; 2. Develop efficiency in skills, work habits, concentration and social skills; 3. Increase knowledge; 4. Provide opportunities for development; 5. Develop attitudes of tolerance, in customs and conventions.

GOSPEL ECHOES

By Capt. Arthur Robinson

"Sign Posts"

"I have set thee for a sign"

Ezekiel 12: 6

God has set his children to be as signs in the world by their consistent living to point sinners to Christ. Let us liken them to three different kinds of signs.

First: Signs to direct. The worth of a signpost lies not in its beauty or ugliness but in its message of home and safety. therefore a sign must point the way clearly and directly; it must be planted firmly, unmovable by wind and storms. God needs his people to be as signs pointing to Him and heaven. A traveller on a lonely highway was uncertain of his way until he found a signpost pointing to his destination, then, following the direction, he found rest and safety. True Christians should always indicate the way of escape to those lost in sin.

Secondly there are signs to "warn". On the cliffs of the sea coasts signs are placed in the danger spots bearing the word "beware". None who walk that way can fail to see them. Our warning to sinners should be just as definite. We are instructed to warn sinners, "If thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity. But thou hast delivered thy soul." Ezekiel 33: 8.

To be true sign posts for God, we must not ourselves be guilty of sin. We must not walk in the counsel of the ungodly. We must not touch the unclean thing, nor must we speak guile. Thirdly, there are signs that "advertise". The large electric signs of our cities attract our attention to the wares advertised on them. Likewise, God's children, by their shining in this world of sin, should compel attention to Christ.

God is relying on us to be the reflectors of His perfect will. Can He depend on us? Are you a true sign or a false one? If you are not what you ought to be then go again to the Master signmaker and let Him make of you the person He would have you be in this world.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

NOW AND THEN

In these days of unrest, crime, dissatisfaction, strife and readjustment, we hear more and more of environment, its dangers and its advantages.

Certainly when you look at Germany, see what the segregation of youth with its instillation of pagan ideas and worse than pagan ideals did to that youth, one sees the danger of an evil environment on a body of young folk.

MARDI GRAS

By GOLDEN GLOW
Tuesday of this week was Mardi Gras—or what we call Shrove Tuesday, the day before Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent. In certain countries it is celebrated every year while down in New Orleans it is used as an excuse for their world-famous annual Mardi Gras carnival which lasts several days and which ends on Shrove Tuesday with a tremendous celebration.

According to old tradition it was the day for pancakes when folks were supposed to use up all rich foods before Lent and so it was called "Mardi Gras"—literally meaning Fat Tuesday. The old "Carnival of Venice" came from the same source. They feasted and danced and on Shrove Tuesday made all the left over rich foods into pancakes and cleaned up the larder ready for the fast of Lent. (Lard-er, isn't that a queer word for pantry or what is now called the refrigerator? But it all means the same thing in the end.)

Yes, down in New Orleans it is commercialized and people by the thousands flock there year after year. It is a wonderful spectacle by all accounts and well worth seeing. It takes quite a host of people busy all year to work out the details to the acme of perfection which they attain in the marvellous parade led by Comus himself, king of the carnival.

Every year they have a different subject, all worked out in the magnificent floats which lavishly portray the different events of the main subject. For instance, one year it was called The Lost Pleiad which is one of the seven stars forming the constellation, Taurus, and the different floats depict the story of it.

The astronomers discover the loss of the one star. It was called The Seven Sisters, but only six seem to be visible, so the parade depicted the search for the lost star. Each float on that particular occasion carried out the idea of the land where the astronomers, led by King Comus searched; the land of the lotus, the milky way, the country of the moon, the heart of the rainbow, no man's land, Neptune's kingdom, the north pole, the south pole, the land of the zephyrs, Flora's realm and so on, each one as true to the conception of each place as imagination could create it. And I heard over the radio Monday evening a part of the celebration on there this year.

TO THE EDITOR

The editor, The Era and Express: In the course of conversations with men who have returned from war, I have heard a great many comments regarding the two veterans' organizations, the Canadian Corps and the Canadian Legion. From an unbiased viewpoint, I think the time has come to decide what organization would suit the younger veterans who number in Newmarket and district close to 600.

From what they tell me, I gather they would prefer an organization that would help them keep the ties of friendship that were formed during their service. Such an organization should be word "social," they mean it to be designed primarily for social purposes, but in the use of the in the broadest sense of being co-operative and mutually helpful, not just an organization restricted to self entertainment. This is the view of a great many.

If some method could be found to have these returned men assemble and express their opinions, and act accordingly, we could have one of the largest organizations within miles. My suggestion is that a speaker from the Legion and one from the Canadian Corps explain in detail what each organization has to offer.

must not touch the unclean thing, nor must we speak guile. Thirdly, there are signs that "advertise". The large electric signs of our cities attract our attention to the wares advertised on them. Likewise, God's children, by their shining in this world of sin, should compel attention to Christ.

God is relying on us to be the reflectors of His perfect will. Can He depend on us? Are you a true sign or a false one? If you are not what you ought to be then go again to the Master signmaker and let Him make of you the person He would have you be in this world.

And the homes where children are either neglected or are the poor little buffers between an ill-mated man and wife or where children are pampered and catered to till they lose all sense of initiative and the knowledge of their real place in the world, can one wonder if from such homes there go out the materials from which juvenile delinquents or parasites on society are made.

In these days children are deprived of much that made for self-reliance and initiative—they have supervised playgrounds, wonderful toys, movies and the chance to see by car, more of the world by the time they reach their teens than their grandfathers and grandmothers saw in half a lifetime.

Some of these things are all to the good but I cannot remember, when a child, ever being at a loss as to what I would do next and one DOES hear that now.

We children, although we didn't know it and didn't miss it, did lose the competitions in music, the oratorical contests, the GOOD movies, the manual training and household science and the chance to see something of our own land.

But ONE thing we DID have was home life—our homes were the stages on which the dramas, comedies and tragedies of our childhood were played. We didn't have religious instruction in the schools but we did have it in the homes. I cannot remember when Bible stories were not a part of my life and it would have been a terrible disgrace if catechism and golden text had not been perfect.

Pilgrim's Progress was acted and re-acted with dolls, cats and dogs and cousins if I could get them. We had to MAKE our plays and because of that they were more satisfying and lasting, I think.

When mother and I were convalescing, before her last illness, she spoke so much of her childhood.

And in it, even more than in my time, the home was to the children the centre of their universe.

My mother was one of a large family and there were enough of them near the same age to have glorious times together. My grandfather, who was the first cabinet maker in Lanark county, had a shop next door to their home and in the big yard behind it the children kept house in the big packing boxes, adorning them with the bits of gilded wood off picture frames and scraps of material from furniture.

Grandfather and grandmother were both passionately fond of music and the children were taught all the lovely old ballads which they, in turn, handed down to THEIR children—we of the next generation.

In winter they played church and school on the broad old stairs and preached and sang, not always appropriately, to their hearts' content.

And in the evenings the great warm kitchen with its shiny floor and braided rugs and fragrant with the smell of great loaves of bread or sheets of gingerbread was turned over to the children. First, lessons, then play as the house resounded to games of blind man's buff and the like or in quieter mood they built cob houses on the great stove hearth and set fire to them or roasted apples, hanging from strings and sending out their fragrance.

Mother said they used to gather round grandfather and watch him cut up great quarters of beef and sides, of pork for meat, and wood and apples and meal and potatoes were the money of those early days. All the children had their duties and it was a simple, wholesome life—work and play and lessons—all taking their part and it is no wonder that from it there came the sturdy folk who lived long to bless their children's lives and who never lost their simple faith "that right was right and wrong was wrong".

"Weeds won't steal my crops!"

Uncontrolled weeds are the farmer's greatest crop thief. They can reduce a crop by one-fifth and increase labour by one-half.

You can save yourself work and money by using clean seed. This prevents the introduction of new weeds. Your agricultural college or experimental farm will tell you the best way to control weeds already in your soil . . . a service that is yours for the asking.

TO THE EDITOR

The editor, The Era and Express: I have come to the conclusion that a radical change has overtaken the Newmarket Veterans' Association, a change not in keeping with the purpose for which the association was originally formed. The association has been operating for a number of years with only one thought in mind, that help be given to those who needed it. The association was supported in that purpose by the town.

The change I refer to is the emphasis placed on sport and other recreational activities. It is imperative that such activity have the support of all but not at the expense of needy veterans and their families.

VISION

is a person's most priceless possession. And when it becomes necessary to correct that vision, a great responsibility is placed upon (1) the man who examines and prescribes for that needed correction; (2) on those persons who have a part in the fabrication of the glasses that shall maintain that correction and (3) in the quality of the materials used. We realize the importance of our efforts in this sequence. We believe that with quality of workmanship and quality of materials there can be no compromise.

At the reception, a buffet lunch was served, the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Datus Crowder, pouring tea.

The bride and groom left on a short trip. On their return they will reside in Newmarket.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and passed slowly up the aisle to an arch of evergreen and lilies. The strains of Lohengrin's wedding march filled the air with Clarion Baker of Baker Hill presiding at the organ.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid were Rowena Hoover, sister of the groom, wearing a full-length dress of tropical blue silk velvet with matching head-dress and carrying a nosegay, and Winnie Stewart, Toronto, formerly of Goodwood, wearing a full-length dress of wine silk velvet with head-dress to match, carrying a nosegay. Lorne Tindall, Goodwood, acted as best man. Little Beth Coles, Barrie, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a long pink dress with bonnet and carrying a nosegay.

Ushers were Lloyd Tate, Toronto, brother of the bride, and Howard Hoover, Dixon Hill, brother of the groom. During the signing of the register Mrs. M. Clendenning sang O Perfect Love.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. Harvey Houck, and Mrs. Houck, Cashel. There were 65 guests. The bride's mother received wearing a dress suit of rust crepe with French eyelace trim and wearing a corsage of iris and yellow freesia. The groom's mother assisted wearing a dress suit of British blue with sequin trim and a corsage of roses and sweet peas.

Mrs. Harvey Houck acted as hostess for the occasion. Mrs. Young, Stouffville, and Mrs. Chapin, Melville, poured tea. Others who assisted were Mrs. Leslie Zimmerman, Mrs. Edgar Nigh, Melville, Mrs. Stanley Powell, Arleen Harper, Grace and Nellie Moore. The toast master was Mr. Harvey Houck. Mrs. M. J. Houck, grandmother of the bride, who is 90 years of age, felt she had a part in the happy occasion when the bride and groom called on her after the ceremony and again after the reception and presented her with the bride's bouquet.

The newlyweds left on a short trip, the bride travelling in a pale blue French wool dress with a top coat of dark brown muskrat. On their return they will live at Dixon Hill.

SUTTON WEST PEARL WARD BRIDE OF C. H. MCEWEN

Rev. J. Frank Ward, brother of the bride, officiated, assisted by Rev. Earle Knechtel. The wedding music was played by Miss Doris Jacoby, Toronto, and Miss Ruth Mary Winch, niece of the bride, sang O Perfect Love.

The bride wore a street-length dress of forget-me-not blue crepe with black accessories and a corsage of Joanna roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. George D. Gall, wearing a street-length dress of hyacinth blue crepe with a corsage of Talisman roses. Mr. Leon Smith was groomsmen. The ushers were Mr. Donald Ward, brother of the bride, and Mr. Perry Winch, Jr.

School Area Would Enable Lower Rate, Board Members Told

Aurora, King township and part of Whitchurch township form an ideal ground for the creation of a high school area in the opinion of Inspector Gordon L. Duffin of the Ontario department of education who addressed a meeting of 50 school trustees and municipal representatives in Aurora high school on Friday evening.

"Whether or not a high school area is formed is entirely up to the ratepayers, the councils and school boards. There is no compulsion by the department. It is a matter that requires considerable education, and I believe a series of meetings in the townships at least are desirable," Mr. Duffin said.

The ideal set-up for a successful school area was one with a population of 10,000, an assessment of at least $10,000,000, and a school attendance of close to 300 pupils, he said. This enabled the ratepayers to get full value for their money, generally lowered the school rate, and provided far better educational facilities in most districts than existed now, he continued.

Under present conditions, farmers were paying around two mills for secondary education and if the money was not paid to the local high school, the balance left went to other schools in the county under the general plan. If a ratepayer lives where there is a high school, he pays a direct tax for secondary education. Rural pupils who attend urban schools are paid for one-half by the township concerned and one-half by the province.

There are at present 165 high schools and 200 continuation schools in Ontario and we would be better served by 200 fully equipped high schools with everybody paying directly to the school where they attend," Mr. Duffin declared. He cited examples in Essex and other counties where a high school area had resulted in a saving on educational costs.

Under present academic arrangements, only three out of every 100 passing their entrance proceed to secure a university degree. "We spend too much on these three and not enough on the other 97," he said. Shop and home economics courses should be available in all secondary schools and where rural pupils were concerned, agriculture should be on the curriculum, he stated. Commercial courses were also advocated. All these were impracticable from a cost standpoint unless there was a school attendance of 300.

The agriculture courses should be headed by a teacher with a B.S.A. degree with practical courses. "Our present system has tended to induce boys and girls to leave the farm rather than to go back to the farm," he declared. Teachers, equipment and buildings to ensure the teaching of such courses could only be secured where the school attendance was stabilized and proper financial returns assured, he added.

Mr. Duffin continued: An adequate hot lunch at noon and a good transportation system were two key points for a successful high school area along with a good school. Under the present system schools where bus systems or better courses existed drew pupils away from others with the result that the smaller school suffered. School boards anxious to obtain county grants for pupils competed almost with one another for pupils. Now bus transportation was negotiated by the public school inspector but some sections would not come in. Experience had proved that where the area school board contracted for the bus, the service was better and routes were easily established and kept open in winter.

COUPLE WILL LIVE AT DIXON HILL

Rev. R. I. Chapin, assisted by Rev. S. S. Shantz, officiated at the marriage of Edna Earlene Tate, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tate, Newmarket, and Carl Samuel Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hoover, Dixon Hill, Markham, on February 23 in Melville United church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked lovely in a slipper satin gown with train, sweetheart neckline and lily-point sleeves, her full-length embroidered veil caught to a head-dress with a tiny band of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade of pink roses, sweet peas and iris.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and passed slowly up the aisle to an arch of evergreen and lilies. The strains of Lohengrin's wedding march filled the air with Clarion Baker of Baker Hill presiding at the organ.

The maid of honor and bridesmaid were Rowena Hoover, sister of the groom, wearing a full-length dress of tropical blue silk velvet with matching head-dress and carrying a nosegay, and Winnie Stewart, Toronto, formerly of Goodwood, wearing a full-length dress of wine silk velvet with head-dress to match, carrying a nosegay. Lorne Tindall, Goodwood, acted as best man. Little Beth Coles, Barrie, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a long pink dress with bonnet and carrying a nosegay.

Ushers were Lloyd Tate, Toronto, brother of the bride, and Howard Hoover, Dixon Hill, brother of the groom. During the signing of the register Mrs. M. Clendenning sang O Perfect Love.

The groom's mother assisted wearing a dress suit of British blue with sequin trim and a corsage of roses and sweet peas.

Others who assisted were Mrs. Leslie Zimmerman, Mrs. Edgar Nigh, Melville, Mrs. Stanley Powell, Arleen Harper, Grace and Nellie Moore. The toast master was Mr. Harvey Houck. Mrs. M. J. Department figures set three percent as secondary school population, hence a population of around 10,000 was needed in an area. Family allowances meant that more pupils would be attending school, and the breakdown of war industry would add to the number.

Mayor Ross Linton of Aurora said he looked upon the plan "very favorably." He said he would be glad to see more rural representation on the board and he approved agriculture and business courses. He asked who took the initiative to get the plan started. Inspector Duffin said the county committee was working on the matter and forms were being sent out to all councils and school boards concerned.

Reeve Lorne Evans of Whitchurch expressed approval of the plan, but pointed out that school pupils were serviced by Richmond Hill, Aurora, Stouffville and Newmarket high schools and Mount Albert continuation school, which would make boundaries hard to form, he said. He would call a meeting of the school sections. "There is a very heavy demand for transportation in the township, which is not well served in this regard," he said.

Gladstone Lloyd of Schomberg said debentures on Schomberg continuation school would still run 12 years, with annual payments of around $900. There was also the proposition that some ratepayers might favor joining an area at Tottenham or Beeton.

Dr. G. W. Williams of Aurora said an extension to Aurora high school was necessary but could not properly be considered until the school knew what its status was to be and that the number of pupils would remain fairly constant. He visualized an extension of the present entrance hall through the auditorium, making two extra class rooms and joining with an addition at the rear of the present building. Any building costs, Inspector Duffin pointed out, would have to be borne by the whole area.

Principal J. H. Knowles of Aurora, who acted as chairman, said that Whitchurch pupils were under a handicap getting to school through lack of transportation, and that under the present system, he neither knew how many pupils would be coming to school before the opening or what bus arrangements would be made. Free transportation as provided by the plan would be a boon to all concerned, he said.

North York Orangemen last Thursday evening celebrated the diamond jubilee of Major W. H. Taylor as a member of the order with a banquet and presentation in the Orange Hall. Over 80 were present including Rt. Wor. Bro. Rev. W. L. Lawrence and Rt. Wor. Bro. Charles Carrie, both past grandmasters of Ontario West, Rt. Wor. Bro. Rev. T. R. White, Aurora, County Master Roy Carr, Mount Albert, District Master Harold Rose, Nobleton, District Master William Kirtin, Mount Albert, and the ruling masters of lodges from Sutton, Island Grove, Mount Albert, Aurora, Northview, Nobleton and Richmond Hill. Members of Queen Mary L.O.B.A. catered for the banquet. Wor. Bro. A. N. Fisher, Aurora, was master of ceremonies while Rt. Wor. Bro. T. R. White introduced the speakers.

Wor. Bro. Fisher proposed the toast to "The King" and Wor. Bro. Howard Morton, Mount Albert, proposed the toast to "Grand Lodge" which was responded to by Rt. Wor. Bro. Lawrence. Bro. Lawrence discussed the flag question at length and urged the brethren to stand firmly behind retaining the Union Jack. He told of the work being done at the Loyal True Blue Orphanage.

Toast to the guests was proposed by Wor. Bro. John Hudson and replied to by Wor. Bro. Harold Rose and William Kirtin.

Rt. Wor. Bro. Charles Carrie told of the work of Rt. Wor. Bro. Taylor as an Orangeman and soldier. He was due much credit for his work on behalf of the success of the L.T.B. Home, he said. He read a telegram from Rt. Wor. Bro. T. Ashmore Kidd, M.P., grand master of British America, addressed to Bro. Taylor which read: "Please accept warmest congratulations on the occasion of the diamond jubilee of your distinguished Orange career. Also best wishes for continued health, happiness and prosperity."

Wor. Bros. W. J. Hudson and Marshall Rank, on behalf of the members of L.O.L. 643 presented Major Taylor with a pen and pencil set suitably inscribed for the occasion while Bro. Rank read an address from the lodge.

Rt. Wor. Bro. Taylor, now 82, recalled many interesting events during his long career. Since the age of eight he had been attending the July 12 parades and had only missed one. He had been initiated at King lodge 930 in February, 1886. The first Aurora L.O.L. was formed in 1856 with William Mosley as master. A depression in the late '70s had affected Aurora seriously, many moving away to seek work elsewhere, so the lodge was unable to carry on. John Black was W.M. of the King lodge and he had driven to King in a cutter with his father and one or two others for the occasion.

He was elected deputy-master of King lodge that December. In October, 1887, a warrant had been issued in his name by Grand Lodge and United Empire Lodge came into being in December, 1887. Major Taylor was the first master and the ten charter members of which he is the only survivor were Thomas Stephens; deputy-master, George Kirk; chaplain, H. E. Proctor; rec. sec., Jas. Smith; fin. sec., Andrew Bell; trans., Charles Henry; D. of C. committee, William Taylor, John Weir, John Grainger and James Seaton. The lodge met in the same room as his 60th jubilee was being held in. The lodge had also met in the L.O.O.F. Hall and where the Pentecostal church is now located. The first banner used was that of the Orange Young Britons, the present banner being the fourth in the history of the lodge.

Major Taylor is the only living member of the Order created by Act of Parliament, as well as by initiation. In 1890, as county master, he had signed the petition which resulted in a dominion charter being issued.

Stranger July 12 he had celebrated had been in the Touchwood Hills in the North-West Rebellion when all Orangemen on the expedition celebrated with a parade in uniform.

For 41 years he has been secretary of the County L.O.L.

Bro. E. C. Moddle moved a vote of thanks to the ladies and Wor. Sis. M. Seaton, P.M., took the occasion to present Bro. Taylor with flowers on behalf of Queen Mary L.O.B.A. while an address signed by Wor. Mistress Mary Waite and Rec. Sec. Maude Hodgkinson, P.M., was read.

AURORA, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, MARCH 7TH, 1946

MEMBERS NOTE 60TH JUBILEE OF ORANGEMAN

Before over 1,000 roaring fans, Ballantrae came through with a sweet 3-2 win over Zephyr Blues to draw on even terms for the Bowser Cup and the Aurora title last Tuesday night. Weather permitting, the series resumes tonight in a battle to the finish. Despite the mild weather the ice was good until the last period and the fans went home hoarse or happy, sad or satisfied, as the case might be.

It was stocky Ross Redshaw that scored the pay-off counter as he blasted Chub Spencely's pass-out through a maze of players, the brilliant Leon Smith having no chance to save it. It topped a fine play-off performance by Redshaw, who has been given the job of watching Mutt Collings since the first game. The counter came at 16:22 and from there in Zephyr was badly disorganized.

Zephyr looked back to form in the first period and three times had the odd man advantage but couldn't strike paydirt, as Ballantrae adopted Napoleon's strategy of the best defence being an offence. Bowdway and Smith both kicked out 14 that were all labelled. Big Ike Harper drew first blood at 16:55. The sturdy defence star, who turned in his best chore of the year, broke from centre, skated just past Peat and as Joe gave with the heave-ho, drove an ankle high shot to the corner.

With Spencely drawing a penalty for holding, Zephyr put on a terrific barrage in the second and Ken Pickering finally drove a sizzler past Bowdway to knot the count. When Arnold and Peat both drew penalties, Zephyr put up one of the best killy-bar-the-door performances of the year, Collings and Smith especially handling the busy traffic with finesse. Ballantrae swarmed the Zephyr net like femmes chasing nylons and with about as much success. Ballantrae aided by this had a one-shot margin on the period.

Lanky Wid Clarke clinaxed a great evening's work at 3:28 of the third, skating in to take Redshaw's pass from the corner and making Smith move first before firing. The roars had scarcely died down when Collings pulled his now famous sleeper act. He picked up a puck from a gangling attack, caught the Whitechurch defence off balance and before you could say "your father's moustache," whipped the rubber past Bowdway.

Ballantrae goal. Bowdway; def., Spencely, Harper; forwards, Simpson, Todd, Williams; subs., Derusha, Clarke, Redshaw, Hood.

Ballantrae Win Puts Teams On Even Terms For Bowser Cup, Title

Dawson's Grill has been announced as the new Gray Coach bus station for Aurora. The premises will be open from 7 a.m. until midnight, providing waiting room accommodation for all buses.

The new arrangement, which comes into effect this month, should prove satisfactory to the public. "No parking" signs will be erected on both sides of the street to prevent congestion of traffic.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Percy Lloyd, the proprietors of the grill, have served as bus drivers with the Gray Coach Lines. Percy was on the Newmarket route for over ten years while Mrs. Lloyd, during war years, drove both a bus and a street car in Toronto.

DAWSON'S GRILL NEW TOWN BUS STATION

Derusha drew a penalty and Ballantrae staved off the pack. Peat got the finger and the shoe was vice versa. Harper handed Collings a terrific going over and Herbie Simpson put on a one-man show of breaking up plays while Chub Spencely handed out some red hot body slams. It looked like overtime for sure and then came the winning counter. Spencely pursued a lost puck into Zephyr territory, came up with it, moved out and with a first class game of put and take going on in front of the nets, passed to Redshaw who coolly fired at the one bit of open net.

Redshaw gets the first star on a goal, an assist and some superb checking. Ike Harper rates number two in the hit parade and, of course, it's a habit, but necessarily so, to give Smitty the third. Al Bowdway, Herb Simpson, Wid Clarke, Mutt Collings and Chas Lunney were just below that first trio.

Ballantrae were without Nick Bangay but George Derusha came from sick bed to fill the breach and played a good game. Zephyr didn't dress Joe Rocci.

Redshaw gets the first star on a goal, an assist and some superb checking. Ike Harper rates number two in the hit parade and, of course, it's a habit, but necessarily so, to give Smitty the third. Al Bowdway, Herb Simpson, Wid Clarke, Mutt Collings and Chas Lunney were just below that first trio.

Ballantrae were without Nick Bangay but George Derusha came from sick bed to fill the breach and played a good game. Zephyr didn't dress Joe Rocci.

Zephyr: goal, Smith; def., S. Lunney, Peat; forwards, C. Lunney, Collings, Pickering; subs., Arnold, Smalley, Groves, Johnston.

Ballantrae: goal, Bowdway; def., Spencely, Harper; forwards, Simpson, Todd, Williams; subs., Derusha, Clarke, Redshaw, Hood.

DAWSON'S GRILL NEW TOWN BUS STATION

Derusha drew a penalty and Ballantrae staved off the pack. Peat got the finger and the shoe was vice versa. Harper handed Collings a terrific going over and Herbie Simpson put on a one-man show of breaking up plays while Chub Spencely handed out some red hot body slams. It looked like overtime for sure and

An Embarrassing Compliment

THE appointment of an individual as executor of your estate is an expression of confidence in his or her integrity and ability. It may, however, prove embarrassing to the person so named. An executor has to deal with a variety of difficult problems. Many are highly technical... some require more time than can be conveniently spared. An executor hesitates to take a holiday; he may feel guilty if illness interferes with his duties as executor.

To ensure efficient, economical, continuous and continuing administration of your estate, name as your executor

DOWN THE CENTRE

By AB HULSE

Artificial ice advocates got a real boost to their argument as old Sol bore down and March came in like a lamb, sending hockey schedules askew. Sure brother, we'll doubtless get colder weather and have both skating and hockey, but as we type, all district leagues are keeping their fingers crossed and looking at the crystal ball of the future, and with some lush, play-off plums to be picked too. The teams and arenas need the happy cabbage, the fans want to see everything brought to a logical conclusion without the fuss of driving miles to see it. Worst feature of all is the fact that the teams can't get any ice to skate on. All we can do is hope, and watch the bill boards for future announcements.

Orchids to the good citizens of Simcoe. They know what they want by way of a war memorial, and what's more to the point, they know how to get what they want. As late as last July they decided on a new artificial ice arena. Then they went to work and raised $70,000 by public subscription. Last week they completed the project by a vote of the people whereby $45,000 was to be approved by the ratepayers. What happened? The voters went to the polls and endorsed the plan by 634 to 83. The plans are all complete and approval has been given by the O.H.A. to a junior "B" entry next year. In April they hope to get things started. There's a real object lesson for others to follow.

While we're on the subject, how about some applause for the folks down Nobleton way. With their minds fixed on a new $10,000 arena and a site already purchased, with the backing of the entire community, over $4,000 has been raised by eueches, dances, auctions, etc. A big dance in the community hall is planned for this month, and each month a different committee takes charge of raising their quota of the funds. Everyone is having a share in raising the funds which makes for more community spirit and spreads the burden carried in most centres by a willing few, who are under continual fire generally as to "Why wasn't it done this way?" Nobleton hopes to have its new arena for next winter, and at their present pace, they'll make it O.K.

Joint McComb, according to latest statistics from American League headquarters, has amassed a total of 45 scoring points in 45 games. This is made up of 18 goals and 27 assists. On the other side, he has spent a total of 32 minutes in the penalty box, but none of his penalties were majors or misconducts. The Providence team have played 52 games and are practically sure of a play-off post. They have been strengthened considerably in recent days with the addition of Alex. Shibley, Bill Juzda and Murray Patrick from the New York Rangers. That trio shouldn't hurt the chances of Yank Boyd's men in the least. All three may have slipped a bit in the N.H.L. but for the minors, they'll be plenty potent.

McComb stands to make a nice bit of change in the play-offs. The league has underwritten the play-off split. The third place teams in each section under the plan get $2,800. The winner meets the winner of the second place teams and another $2,800 is added. The championship winner's stake between the survivors and the series "A" winners is a cool $7,200. The lowest a team in the play-offs can take is $2,200, while if the Reds won the title they would split $12,800.

Scotty Mair is also on the verge of some play-off pelf. The Tulsa Oilers have clinched fourth place and a play-off berth in the American Association, Kansas City, Omaha and St. Paul being other survivors. Hugh is the second high scorer of the Oilers and at last reports had a total over the season of 52 points made up of 31 goals and 21 assists. The Leafs, incidentally, have been watching the ex-Aurora junior with keen interest this winter.

Yeah Pickering! Joe McCulley and all the lads are wearing a broad smile these days for coaches Reg. Blackstock and Barney Jackson have done it again. It's an annual habit at Pickering to take at least one prep. school basketball title. This year, for the third time in a row, it's two, and if we recall rightly, it's five straight in the senior. Tried to pin down both Joe and Blackie as to just how many times the grey and blue had won prep. school honors, but since it's all ex consuetudine, they couldn't recall without checking the records. When we tried to find our own we couldn't. Let's just say it's the "umpteenth" time.

The seniors are coached by Mr. Blackstock this season with guard Bill Harvey, who turns in a nice steady game, as captain. There seems little to choose in ability between all the players. "No stars" sez Blackie. The team won't rate as the best in the school history nor the worst. Here are the boys who will shortly be seeking the district and eastern Canada titles: guards, Bill Harvey, Dick Crowther, Jack Parkinson, Jack Atkin; for., Hugh Edgehoffer, Tom Humphrey, Cliff Thomson, Jack Atkin, Phil. Konduros, Pete McVannel, Gerry Kernahan, Bill Capes and Charlie Bennett. We gave pivot man Edgehoffer caps for he was the guy who turned on the spurge that took U.T.S. in the all important big game, but it might easily have been one of the others. The team dropped one game in the regular set to U.T.S. but St. Andrew's College evened that score by taking one from Schools which meant Pickering only had to win at home as they took S.A.C. early in the year. Don Force, another guard, captains the junior team, which lost one to St. Andrew's. The shoe was on the other foot this time as U.T.S. dropped S.A.C. Other guards are Don Wood, George Miller, Bob Dorsey. Fred Case, former Newmarket high player, centres the squad and has been doing a smooth job. Miles Keenleyside, son of the Canadian ambassador to Mexico, has been one of the highest scorers of the year. The other forwards who equally carry the burden are Jim Spring, Rick Goss, Russ Berg and Bart Arnold. The latter is a product of merry old England. Wood and Miller are playing basketball for the first time in their lives. Best wishes from the entire district will follow the Pickering boys on the play-off trail. St. Andrew's College were runners-up in both series, but coach Horace Kendall just lacked that certain something needed to win.

American basketball has been worked to a fine art in the schools and prep. schools across the border and it was a revelation to see Nicholas prep. from Buffalo last week against St. Andrew's. Every man on the team knew where he was supposed to be all the time and was there, too. The coach, a former Cornell player, gave instructions to all players as they entered the game, such as "use the Michigan shift," "get screen play," "working," and the lads knew their sequence. They also knew how to check hard, without bodily contact, and to get the ball out of their own end on the cable. It will be a long time till we get high school boys on a par with that in Canada as a team, not individually, for we have as good material. But the day is coming fast. If we ever get those commodious memorial gyms we hear about scattered across Canada, the cage game will expand with startling rapidity. Our sports choices aren't much different from our American cousins after all.

Aurora bantams came through the Oakville series easily, though truth to tell, Oakville wasn't in a class with either Newmarket or Bradford in the local group. We have sounded off before about the absurdity which takes kids all over the province for hockey games. Did you take a gander at the play-off set up? Aurora is drawn against Sundridge in the next round. One hundred and fifty-three miles by rail and around 175 miles by highway from Aurora. Quite a jaunt for teen-agers. Worst of all too is the expense involved. Even a junior "C" team drawing good gates finds it tough to make much profit on a trip like that, and wrongly enough, it's true, the kids have been drawing peanut-sized gates all year. The Lions club, fortunately, is the financial backers so that score won't present the worries it otherwise might. It has been suggested that a sudden-death game be played at Gravenhurst, which is just about half-way between the two places. It wouldn't draw much at the gate, but it would cut expenses and would best of all hasten the season, for if you have to hire artificial ice for minor games, it's a sad picture financially.

If the Simmons-Babcock-Holloway kids go through, they are supposed to get a bye to the finals (don't bet on that too much). Here are the other teams left, Brockville vs. Whitby, Thorold vs. Paris, Listowel vs. Goderich. It would only seem natural for Aurora to meet Whitby or Brockville next. No matter what happens it'll be long trips if Aurora wins. Don't sell those Sundridge kids short either, for in the past some smart junior teams have come from the same place.

Bradford is tangling with Bolton, and the prize is the right to play Powassan. Last year Powassan had one of the best juvenile teams in Ontario, and recently swamped Orono 16-2. Surely there must be some way of rating teams other than to allow a one-sided series like that. Port Dover, Milton, Hanover, Elora, Milverton are still in the running, too. Fred Collings and his youngsters will battle it out to the end, no matter what the opposition. How about giving the Aurora and Bradford kids your support next time out? Truth to tell, the Lions in both centres are just beginning to get hockey conscious as "our team" makes good. Those Lions' roars will sound mighty good in the arena.

George Derusha, the smooth skating centre of the Ballantrae club, is out for the season. George contracted mumps last week, and he'll take his hockey from the sidelines from now on. It doesn't help Herb Simpson's chances any. Unnoticed by most is the fact that Ches Lunney, Zephyr centre and a vastly underrated player, has been performing in the past few games with a broken blood vessel in his leg. It's painful, but Lunney gets around pretty well and you just can't keep him on the bench. In answer to numerous requests, we inquired just how much Joe Peat, the Zephyr defence player, weighed. "Little dynamite" weighs just 147 pounds stripped, but it's all muscle, and we don't need to tell you he can hand out a body check with the best. There's no better defenceman in the group, and Joe paces himself to perfection.

KESWICK

Womer of Keswick Christian and United churches and of Ravenshoe church will assemble for a women's world day of prayer service on Friday afternoon, March 8, at 2:30. This year the service is in the United church. It will be led by Mrs.
R. W. Serrick, Miss Eva Gilroy and Mrs. W. A. King of Ravenshoe. Mrs. Ethel Morton and Mrs. Kenneth Hunter will be soloists. The service, in common with the thousands of such services held the first Friday of Lent in many countries, is interdenominational. All women are invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marritt were in Toronto on Monday.
Walter Walker, who has completed his navy service and who arrived home from Victoria, B.C., about a month ago, was soloist
at the United church last Sunday morning.

Keswick' senior hockey team won from Queensville boys at Queensville last Thursday. The juniors of Keswick found Queensville opposition a little too tough and went down 4-0 in their first loss of the season.
Senior boys' score was 5-0 so the shut-outs were evenly distributed.

Norman and Michael George were in Toronto on Sunday visiting their mother who is in Toronto General hospital following an operation. Mr. Gordon Harper, their uncle, took the boys to Toronto.

Little Joan Fowler, Toronto, was the weekend guest of her cousin, Martin Lapp.

Mrs. Carscallen, Toronto, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Lapp.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the United church will hold their annual quilting day on March 14 commencing at 10 a.m. They will have lunch at the church and work until the time of their regular meeting at 3 p.m. They hope to complete the quilts for their bales. Women of the church are invited to help.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Brown, Vancouver, have been recent guests of Mr. Brown's sister, Mrs.
Jack Cameron, and the Misses Marritt at LaCelle on the lake.

Mrs. John Hopkins, who is visiting her daughter in Edmonton, is enjoying her stay in that city.

Mrs. Wm. George is in Toronto

General hospital, having undergone an operation there last week.

Lieut. K. Peel, who returned recently from England, is at home here.

Miss Margaret Peel, Toronto, spent the weekend at home.

Sunday's sunshine brought quite a number of cottagers to the lake to take a look at summer cottages at Keswick Beach and elsewhere.

One of the oldest residents of Queensville, Mrs. Jas. Aylward, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Munsey in Vancouver, where she has been for the past four and a half years. The remains are being brought back to Queensville for burial and will arrive in Newmarket on Saturday. She will be taken to the parlors of Roadhouse and Rose, where she will remain until the funeral service at 1 o'clock on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cunningham have returned home from Sharon where they took care of Orville Briggs until he died.

Mrs. Belfry of Toronto, sister of Mr. Roy Cowieson, met with a serious accident recently.

TARPAULINS

For Trucks, Trailers, Machinery, Etc.

Strong • Durable • Waterproof

STRONG—because they are double-stitched with heavy quality thread. Brass grommets for tie ropes 3 1/2 to 4" apart. All corners and points of strain are reinforced with extra thickness of material.

DURABLE—because closely woven cotton duck of full weight is used. 12-ounce (treated weight) for regular tarpaulins. 15-ounce (treated weight) for heavy service.

WATERPROOF—because the saturation treatment is forced into the material penetrating every pore and fibre.

National Employment Service

benefits THE WHOLE community

Regular employment and pay envelopes make for carefree families—for prosperous communities—for "good times" for employer and employee alike. The National Employment Service, with offices in more than 200 cities and towns across Canada, serves the needs of both employers and employees—and the local N. E. S. office takes its place in importance to the community among the time honoured community institutions—the Post Office, the Court House, the City Hall.

Without National Employment Service, the worker is left to his own initiative to find a job to support himself and his family. The employer may be unable to reach workers he requires. National Employment Service is the clearing house through which employer and employee are brought together, so that both may have their free choice of the entire employment market.

- National Employment Service has 5 main functions:
- 1—Organization of the whole employment market, and bringing together employers and employees;
 - 2—Collection of information on employment problems for the use of Government, Management and Labour;
 - 3—Administration of Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act;
 - 4—Dealing with Unemployment Insurance Benefits;
 - 5—Dealing with Out-of-Work Benefits for Ex-Service Personnel.

Make full use of the Local Office of National Employment Service. It is there to serve your needs, and those of the entire Community.

Gar Doolittle, former Aurora high athletic star, is playing both basketball and hockey for No. 2 Armored Corps in the Camp Borden leagues this winter and he's doing mighty well from all accounts. Bill Hopper, former Newmarket junior, is holding down a defence post on the same team and teamed up with Bill Blogg who played lacrosse for Allandale juniors against Aurora in Tri-County days, they form a rough, tough blueline duo. Both Doolittle and Hopper are expecting their discharge soon.

Gone but not forgotten! Richmond Hill juniors bowed out to Scarboro Rangers in two straight. The Hill boys were a bit dissatisfied with the refereeing of Maurice Walsh. All year they drew penalties. In the vital play-offs it was a different story. "I have my instructions," Walsh is reported as having said before the game. It worked out by Jimmy Grainger still scratching his head.

NOTICE

Tenders received up to and including March 9 for excavating and building concrete wall and floor for basement under schoolhouse, S. S. No. 4, East Gwillimbury, and supplying all material for same. C. Pinder, sec-treas. *2w5

ELIMINATE the feed hazard in chick raising

It isn't enough to know the analysis of a feed—you must know how that analysis is made up. You must know how many pounds of the expensive ingredients like powdered milk, meat meal and cereal grass are in the feed.

And you get this information, right down to the pound, of every ingredient in CAFETERIA Chick Starter.

We can't invite you to compare the ingredients of CAFETERIA Chick Starter with other chick starters for no other feed gives you full formula information.
